WORLD'S FAIR MINE

Enthusiastic Meeting in the Stock Exchange Room.

E. P. FERRY SUBSCRIBES $1,000

A Committee Appointed to Secure $50,000 Subscriptions to the Capital Stock of the Proposed Company.

There were not more than a dozen men dising. present at the meeting called at the stock exchange to determine what action the mining men of this territory would take in the World's Fair underground mine, but the speeches, with one exception, enthusi-astically endorsed the scheme.

Colonel Nick Treweek, vice-president of the stock exchange; Hon. E. P. Ferry, of Park City, and Colonel Murray made stirring speeches in its behalf, while Colone Crowe made a detailed statement as to the plans of the company. Colonel Nick Treweek, who presided over the meeting, said that a few men in affairs of this kind had to take the unitative. "I feel," he said, "assured that the projectors of this enterprise will meet with Dration, and may be sold as provided by the articles.

Celonel Crowe, of Aspen, Col., was introduced and said the American Understance of the American

The stream Another Utah Invention. in this inter-mountain country is interested in mines. The stream of gold and silver pouring into every business vitalizes all your industries. All these fine blocks in your city are due largely to the mining industry. This enterprise will pay you at least 300 per cent. This underground scheme was suggested to Colonel Browne's mind when he was in Chicago. On enquiring he found that under Jackson park, where the World's fair is to be located, there is a strata 600 masters of the different railways as fair is to be located, there is a strata 600 masters of the different railways as feet in thickness of lime rock. He thought that a mine would attract the eye of the visitors more directly than any other executions of the roads pronounce it the best thing they have yet visitors more directly than any other executions of the roads pronounce it the best thing they have yet visitors more directly than any other execution of it. The idea suggested to have determined to make the in of a subterranean stream. The shaft should be lined through the quicksand and made water tight and painted white. The subterranean channels would be lighted with thousands of electric lights. In the chambers there should be exhibits of all the specimens of the principal mines of the United States will be there, electric drills real bears in each of the specimens of the principal mines of the lunited States will be there, electric drills real bears in each of the specimens of the section 17, township in north, range 1 west. will be seen in action, hoisting apparatus,

An exhibition of this kind will sell millions of dollars worth of mining machinery. Unless unforcescen obstacles are met, the cost will not exceed $500,000. It will be made a beautiful Alladin cave and attract most of the visitors to the tair. This proposition whon first made known took the west by storm, and the newspapers have spoken of the project in very complimentary terms.

Colonel Crowe said that they had already received $200,000 subscriptions from Denver, Aspen and other Colorado points. He thought Utah ought to subscribe 5,000 shares, or $30,000, only one-balf of which would be called for, or $25,000.

Colonel Murray thought the scheme was extremely novel and its carning capacity would only be limited by the capacity of the hoisting shaft to carry the visitors. He moved that a committee be appointed to solicit subscriptions to the stock, which motion was seconded.

Hon. E. P. Ferry of Park City being called for, said that he hadn't looked into the uroposition as a dividend payer, but as a public enterprise he thought it should be encouraged, and on that ground had subscribed $1,000. Mining, more and more as the years advance, is getting to be looked upon as a legitimate business. It is not strange that people in the east, tooking at arm's length, should have seen it as a harardous venture. At last they cease to view it as a wild-cat scheme. It was believed that the precisus minerals were in the mountains for some fool to find, and did not know that it required money, machinery and time to develop and get them out. Here is an opportunity to give an object lesson to the world, where the world can see it in its practical operations. "I have known Senaters and already in the precisus as we all see to have capital come to Tath, I think it is a good, first-class investment, even if the money is all "flown in." Colonel Murray resented this by saying that the first time he visited a mine he was dirappointed, not with the mine but with himself—he never felt his littleness so magnified in all his life.

The following were named as a committee to secure subscriptions: J. E. Bamberger, Colonel Murray, Fred Simon, Colonel Lett, John J. Daly, A. E. Hyde and Heber M. Wells.

DEEP CREEK BOOMING

It Shows 603.76 Ounces of Silver, 3.791 Ounces in Gold, and 9 1-2 Per Cent. Lend.

The assay of the ore which Sam Gilson transported from Dugway on wagens was made yesterday and was the first assay of a large quantity of the Deep Creek product yet made.

The carload of ore was sampled at the Conklin sampling works, and as assayed by McVicker yesterday went 914 per cent lead, 603.75 ounces in silver and 3.791 ounces in gold to the ton. Several specimens from the mine gave an assay of 14 per cent lead, the mine gave an assay of 14 per cent lead, 2,375.04 ou nees silver and 2 ounces in gold. The second-class ore yielded 275 ounces of silver and 1½ ounces in gold.

The most sanguine friends of the Deep Creek country had held out right along that the ore was low grade and there were few pretensions to ore as rich as that which Mr. Gilson brought to the city. The news of this great strike has reseted.

The news of this great strike has created considerable of a sensation, and its effect on the Colorado miners can be imagined when it is known that the Deep Creek country had aroused a great interest before the Citago discountry and aroused a great interest before the Gilson discovery was made known.
